

Mike Spahn is a dynamic strategist who blends expertise in communications, advocacy, policy, and campaign management to help clients -- including some of the top brands in technology -- achieve their goals. Prior to joining Precision, Mike served as chief of staff to Sen. Patty Murray, the third most senior Democrat in the U.S. Senate. There, he navigated some of our nation's biggest challenges and crafted winning policy. He also helped guide Sen. Murray through two successful re-election campaigns. Mike has a long history of developing and executing communications strategies for some of the toughest challenges of the day. He has been at the center of policy and politics for nearly two decades and was consistently cited as one of Roll Call's Fabulous 50 Congressional staffers.
