

THE FLIGHT ATTENDANT DRUG AND ALCOHOL PROGRAM (FADAP) 2020 CONFERENCE

BIOGRAPHICAL SUMMARIES

JENNIFER BROWN, BA

Jennifer has more than 24 years of experience in the behavioral health advocacy field, serving as a trainer, facilitator, designer, project director, training director, and video producer. She has developed and managed innovative training programs specializing in the areas of stigma and discrimination, wellness, recovery, and culture change. Much of her career has involved helping stakeholders to examine their own pre-conceived ideas and develop strategies for change. She has coached trainers across the country and abroad and conducted hundreds of workshops in Maryland, across the country and internationally. Under her leadership, The Anti-Stigma Project has become a nationally known model for stigma reduction. She has guest lectured at some of the area's leading educational institutions, and been a sought-after speaker and presenter at local, state, national and international conference from Hong Kong to Baltimore.

KAMRIN CARVER, LMFT, CSAT

Kamrin is the Clinical Director for Brighton Recovery Center in Ogden, Utah. He has been involved with the addiction and recovery community since 2012. His specialization in Sex Addiction, Trauma and Codependency have helped to develop a substantial number of presentations and programs which have been delivered to diverse audiences across the country. Kamrin completed his undergraduate studies in Social Work at Weber State University and his graduate work in Marriage and Family Studies at Argosy University. His post graduate efforts were facilitated by the International Institute for Trauma and Addiction Professionals. Kamrin went on to receive his advanced training in EMDR, The Gottman Sound Relationship House, Emotionally Focused Therapy (EFT) and is a Certified Sex Addiction Therapist (CSAT). Kamrin's experience has included working within an array of settings inclusive of inpatient hospitalization, emergency psychiatric care, substance abuse treatment centers, residential treatment, partial hospitalization and intensive outpatient for both the adolescent and adult populations. Kamrin has a passion for creating positive change in the lives of people who suffer from trauma and co-occurring addictive disorders. Kamrin is a father of three and is an avid yogi and meditator. He brings this mindfulness into both his private and organizational practices.

HEATHER HEALY, LCSW-C, CEAP, CCDC, SAP

Heather Healy is the FADAP Program Manager and the Director of Employee Assistance for the Association of Flight Attendants. Her area of expertise is designing and directing workplace-based services for a range of behavioral health issues including substance use disorders. Heather is a clinical social worker licensed in Maryland and the District of Columbia. She is a certified employee assistance professional, an internationally certified chemical dependency counselor, certified labor assistance professional, a DOT qualified substance abuse professional and a certified drug and alcohol program administrator for FAA regulated drug testing programs. Heather has been in the EAP field since 1986 and serves as a field instructor for second year MSW graduate students at the University of Maryland. Heather is the Clinical Coordinator for the State of Maryland's Dental Hygienists Impaired Professionals Program which is designed to protect public safety while providing rehabilitation opportunities. She maintains a private psychotherapy, consultation and SAP practice.

LANTIE JORANDBY, MD

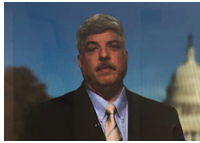

Lantie Jorandby, MD, is the Chief Medical Officer of Lakeview Health, a dual diagnosis and addiction treatment center whose in-patient facility is located in Jacksonville, FL. Dr. Jorandby graduated with honors from Vanderbilt University with a Bachelor Science in Neuroscience. She attended medical school and completed her residency at the University of Florida. For seven years, she worked as a staff psychiatrist and mental health supervisor at the Veterans Affairs Outpatient Clinic in Viera, FL. After completing her Addiction Psychiatry Fellowship at Yale University Dr. Jorandby became Medical Director for the dual diagnosis unit at McLean Hospital in Belmont, MA. She also served as faculty at Harvard Medical School in the Department of Psychiatry. She is one of less than 200 physicians in the United States who is dual board certified in addiction medicine and psychiatry and neurology.

KYLE KONE, LMFT

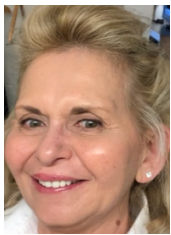

Kyle Kone, LMFT, is passionate about working with people who struggle with addiction and mental health issues through the lens of understanding and treating the various complex dynamics that can help both individuals and their families find new, intentional, and meaningful qualities of life. Kyle has worked with co-occurring mental health and substance use disorders, and views people as capable to gain awareness of previous and current patterns of dysfunction to promote both their short-term and long-term healthier lifestyle. Kyle engages people in educational and experiential interactions to foster rapport and develop skills to work through adverse issues instead of against them. Kyle's formal education has derived from the fields of psychology and marriage and family therapy, and he applies concepts and skills from these fields in the work of addiction and mental health, in particular the concern for developing healthy relationships for the self and all surrounding relationships.

NICHOLAS LOMANGINO, MD

Dr. Nicholas Lomangino is the Deputy Manager of Medical Specialties Division at Federal Aviation Administration headquartered in Washington DC. He has been practicing preventive medicine since receiving his medical degree in 1983. Dr. Lomangino serves as the FAA representative overseeing the technical administration of the Flight Attendant Drug and Alcohol Program as well as the HIMS substance abuse program for Pilots.

DEBORAH MC CORMICK, CEAP, NCAC II, SAP, LAP-C

Deborah McCormick is a Flight Attendant and serves as the Flight Attendant Drug and Alcohol Program (FADAP) Coordinator. Deborah is a licensed chemical dependency counselor, certified employee assistance professional, certified labor assistance professional, a national certified addiction counselor, Level II, and a substance abuse professional. Deborah has served on the AFA-CWA Employee Assistance Program at US Airways, Inc., since 1990. She advanced to the Master Executive Chairperson of the EAP Committee in 1996. In 2011, Deborah received the President's Volunteer Service Award for Over 20 years of volunteer service in advancing the well-being of Flight Attendants.

KATHLEEN MURPHY, LMFT

Kathleen's career is founded on over 30 years of experience working with people suffering from substance abuse issues complicated by relational trauma. She is currently Clinical Director of Breathe Life Healing Centers in Los Angeles, CA. She had the gift and honor of deepening her experiential group therapy skills at both the profound Breakthrough at Caron Program in Wernersville, PA and the Meadows in Wickenburg, AZ. Kathleen has made use of Sensorimotor Psychotherapy, IFS, AEDP, Interpersonal Neurobiology, polemics, dyadics and didactics; psychoeducation, lectures and experiential group processes that are heavily influenced by attachment theory as well as psychodramatic techniques to assist clients in reframing and reclaiming the self as a being in relationship. Her path was paved by earning her BA in Sociology and Philosophy at the University of Texas, Austin and an MA in Counseling at St. Edward's University. She has a love of Zen Buddhism, Kundalini Yoga, Sound Healing and all the wisdom traditions. While she enjoys mental gymnastics such as poetry and philosophical discourse, she has also been known to use puppetry to create short rock operas to illustrate relational dynamics. She is a Licensed Professional Counselor and Nationally Credentialed Counselor. She is level 2 EMDR trained, and a member of the Sensorimotor Psychotherapy Institute where she is currently ensconced in Level 3 training. She is a member of the National Board of Credentialed Counselors. She is also certified Level 1 Kundalini Yoga teacher and has been certified in sound healing modalities.

DR. BEAU NELSON, DBH, LCSW

Dr. Nelson serves as Clinical Director for FHE Health and affiliated programs. In this role, he is responsible for the therapy programs, therapists, and other clinical services; is the administrator for Neurosciences Department and helps to coordinate all services including case management, clinical, Neuro, medical and auxiliary services. Dr. Nelson is a senior administrator who works with all aspects of patient care and the varied programs and modalities as part of the entire patient experience. Dr. Nelson has been a licensed professional for more than 20 years, serving as a therapist and director in clinical programs for outpatient services, day hospital programs, and acute and sub-acute care programs for substance abuse, mental health, and dual diagnosis. He also has experience in treating chronic mental illness, working in Primary Care, and working with Electroconvulsive Therapy. Dr. Nelson has experience as a supervisor, consultant, speaker, professor, and administrator. As a Doctor of Behavioral Health, he is specially trained to work in medical settings with complex cases and long-term disease management.

MARIO SAN BARTOLOME, MD

Dr. Mario San Bartolome is an Addiction Medicine specialist who is board certified in both Family Medicine and Addiction Medicine. Dr. San Bartolome received his undergraduate degree from UC Davis, his MD from the UC Irvine School of Medicine and received a Master's in Business Administration from the Paul Merage School of Business at UC Irvine. Dr. San Bartolome has leadership and health delivery experience in multiple levels of care related to substance use disorders including inpatient medical withdrawal management, residential treatment and outpatient treatment both in programs and in medical offices. Dr. San Bartolome has served as founding Director for the Memorial Care Addiction

Medicine Unit and has held directorships for several residential and outpatient treatment organizations. He has been an active and passionate advocate for improving access to care for people with substance use disorders through leadership at the local, state and national level. He serves on the Payer Relations Committee for the American Society of Addiction Medicine and is a board member and Treasurer of the California Society of Addiction Medicine. Dr. San Bartolome has experience working in occupational medicine and enjoys supporting groups like flight attendants to improve safety, education, and quality of life. Dr. San Bartolome serves as the Medical Director for Experience Recovery Treatment Centers in Southern California where he treats individuals in withdrawal management, residential and outpatient addiction medicine levels of care.